Scheduling appointments:

Please schedule an appointment in advance, also in acute and urgent cases. Naturally, emergencies are treated as a priority. We ask for your understanding that these rare cases may cause waiting times for subsequent patients. Please assist us to optimise scheduling by letting us know whether your visit concerns a short enquiry or an extended discussion. If you are unable to keep your appointment, please cancel it in due time.

Laboratory examinations:

Blood samples are taken until 10 am. Please do not eat prior to it. A medical examination application has to be available for the taking of a blood sample.

Ordering prescriptions:

Prescriptions (e.g. for permanent medication or subsequent transfers as well as for other specialists) can be pre-ordered by phone, fax, post, email or via the website and picked up the following consultation day after 3 pm. Please note our office hours.

House calls:

If you are not able to visit us due to debilitating illness, please arrange an appointment for a house call. Please note that we are only able to conduct house calls in truly justified cases. House calls are generally conducted outside of office hours.

Telephone consultation hours:

During consultation hours we would like to take care of our patients in the practice exclusively. If you want to speak to the physicians by telephone, please leave a message (by phone, email or our website). We are happy to call you back. In case of life-threatening emergencies you can reach the emergency physician by phone number 112. The organised medical emergency service is available to assist you outside of our office hours.
